Two linked memberships, one simple idea

ShorePointe is your points account. RCI is your travel account.

SHOREPOINTE RESORT CLUB (SPRC)

Where your points live

- A pure points program, not a typical timeshare. No timeshare weeks to own, sell or transfer.
- You own an annual package of "Access Points", held here until you need them.
- Your membership is yours for life as long as annual dues are paid, and you can sell or transfer it any time.
- RCI-affiliated resort, ID# DB95.

RCI POINTS PLATINUM

Where you book your travel

- All new SPRC members are enrolled in RCI Points Platinum, RCI's top membership tier.
- Use points for resort stays, or pay cash for Extra and Last Call Vacations.
- Book hotels, cars, cruises, activities and flights through RCI Travel®.
- Your RCI account stays active as long as your annual RCI fee is paid.

How points work

Only pay for the points you need, when you need them. You're never required to pay for Access Points you don't request.

Key dates & fees

Both memberships run on an anniversary year that starts in the month you first enrolled, not the calendar year.

What	When	Paid to
Annual SPRC dues	Due on the 1st day of your enrollment month	ShorePointe
Annual RCI membership fee	Due by the end of the month your RCI membership expires	RCI
Access Points	Only when you request them, at 1.5¢ per point	ShorePointe
Exchange transaction fee	When you book a points stay; based on the number of nights	RCI

Booking your vacation with RCI

Since the 1970s, RCI has been the largest vacation exchange company. You can book in two ways: RCI vacations at affiliated resorts, and RCI Travel® for everything else.

Extra & Last Call for Platinum

Length of stay	Flexible: 1-6 nights, 7 nights, or 7+ nights	Week-long stays	Week-long stays
When to book	Any time	Any time	Check-in within 45 days
Price	Points prices often drop as check-in nears	Regular cash rates, with frequent sales	Clearance flat rate by unit size

Insider tip: Watch for last-minute deals. A studio, 1- or 2-bedroom unit can drop to just 7,500 points for a full week, and RCI runs sales on all three types all year.

Sharing your membership

You can add up to five co-owners to your RCI Points account, and you can book vacations for family and friends, too.

1 Co-owners

Adding or removing co-owners

You can have 1 to 5 co-owners on your RCI Points account. To add or remove one, contact ShorePointe and we'll help you through the process.

What co-owners can and can't do

- Co-owners can be helped on your RCI account by an RCI Travel Guide.
- They don't have direct access to your RCI Points account online.
- They don't receive RCI materials or mailings.

Two ways a co-owner can book an RCI vacation

- 1 The co-owner calls RCI. An RCI Travel Guide makes the reservation in the co-owner's name.
- 2 You book it online, then transfer it. Book on the RCI website (it will be in your name), then call or use live chat to have an RCI Travel Guide change the reservation to your co-owner's name.

On RCI Travel, it's simpler: book hotels, cars, cruises, activities and flights online directly in your co-owner's name, or they can call an RCI Travel Guide.

2 Family & friends

Yes, you can book vacations for the people you love. Use an RCI Guest Certificate to put an RCI vacation you've booked in a family member's or friend's name. As a Platinum member, you get 25% off Guest Certificates, and you can transfer points to another RCI Points member for free.

3 Your membership, your choice

No long-term lock-in

Unlike a traditional timeshare, you keep your membership for as long as you like. You can transfer, will or sell it whenever you choose.

Retiring your membership

If you decide to retire your membership, simply give ShorePointe 30 days' notice and your membership will be ended.

Your RCI Points Platinum benefits

Platinum is RCI's top membership tier. Here's what it adds on top of a standard RCI membership.
